

Rent Increase & Renewal Policy — Maple Court

Version 2 · Effective 1 August 2026

Maple Court, 3140 Roswell Avenue, Long Beach, CA 90814

Effective 1 August 2026. Supersedes version 1.

1. Coverage

This property is subject to the rent limits of California Civil Code section 1947.12. It is a four-unit building constructed in 1962 and no exemption applies to it.

2. The annual limit

The maximum increase in any twelve-month period is 5% plus the regional change in the Consumer Price Index, and never more than 10%.

For the cap year beginning 1 August 2026, the applicable maximum for properties in Los Angeles County, which includes Long Beach, is 8.7%.

For the previous cap year — 1 August 2025 through 31 July 2026 — the maximum was 8.0%. See version 1 of this policy.

The limit is a ceiling, not a scheduled increase. It does not mean rent rises by that amount, and it does not mean rent rises at all in a given year.

3. How often rent may be increased

Rent may be increased no more than twice in any twelve-month period, and the increases together may not exceed the annual limit in section 2.

4. Notice

A rent increase takes effect only after written notice.

- An increase of 10% or less within any twelve-month period requires 30 days' written notice.
- An increase of more than 10% within any twelve-month period requires 90 days' written notice.

Because the maximum permitted increase at this property is below 10%, increases here are normally subject to the 30-day notice.

Notice states the new rent amount and the date it takes effect. Notice is delivered in writing and is also posted to the resident portal.

5. Renewal

At the end of a fixed term the office contacts the resident about renewal, ordinarily 60 to 90 days before the term ends.

A resident who does not sign a new fixed term continues month to month on the same terms, unless those terms are changed by a notice given under section 4.

Renewal is not automatic in the sense of committing either party to a further fixed term. The tenancy continuing month to month is the default where nothing else is signed.

6. Questions about a specific increase

This document states the limits and the notice rules that apply at this property. It does not state the rent for any unit, whether a particular unit's rent is being increased, by how much, or when.

A resident asking about an increase to their own rent — the amount, the effective date, or whether a notice they received is correct — is directed to the notice itself, to the resident portal, or to the office.
